

ARTIST RESIDENCIES

About our Studios

Launched in 2018, the studio program is designed to support the development of new work by emerging and mid-career artists, providing access to secure private studios for their creative practice. This is underpinned by the long history of Centrehouse Inc., the not-for-profit arts organisation managing Gallery Lane Cove + Creative Studios, with Guy Warren as an early trustee and Lloyd Rees as a supporter.

While our mandate is to support Sydney-based artists, applicants from interstate and overseas are welcome. We are interested in fostering creative exchange and a broad range of artistic approaches, particularly those that are either experimental and/or interdisciplinary.

Three different studios are available for hire. Please note these are working spaces that do not have attached living quarters.

Duration, Rates and Inclusions

- Applications are accepted for 3, 6, 9 and 12 months. In general, preference is given to applicants committed to 6 months and above.
- Studio Rates: $95 per week for the largest with a sink, $85 per week for mid size and $75 for the smallest studio.
- 7am-11pm daily access to the studio, which is in close proximity to public transport and shops; (access outside these hours need to be submitted in writing and approved by the manager a week in advance).
- Access to painting, print, ceramic, textiles and jewellery studios and equipment* outside class and workshop hours
- Electricity, water and internet included
- Residencies for 6 months and longer are eligible for a 4-week solo exhibition at Gallery Lane Cove (1/3 of the gallery space) upon completion of Residency period, with curatorial advice, installation and standard marketing support (e-marketing, listing in Art Guide, ArtsHub, NAVA and GLC's EDMs, website and social media; 250 exhibition invitations) + invigilation and sales management (if works are for sale; 30% commission applies)
- Residencies of less than 6 months (minimum 3 months) are eligible for a group show with other studio artists.
