LOIQUE ALLAIN

2013 LLOYD REES MEMORIAL YOUTH ART AWARD WINNER

18 August - 12 September 2015

EXHIBITION TO BE OPENED BY ARTIST, NEIL FRAZER

Loique Allain was the recipient of the 2013 Lloyd Rees Memorial Youth Art Award and as part of her award, she received the opportunity to exhibit a solo exhibition in Gallery Lane Cove.

This exhibition has been two years in the making and charts Loique's extensive travels and residencies in Europe and within Australia over this period of time.

The large format lino prints reflect her deep fascination with landscape, a source of inspiration to Australian indigenous and non indigenous artists throughout history. Loique experiments with perspective and the textures she creates by cutting through the lino is hypnotic.

Artist Statement:

This body of work is a response to my life experiences and the world that surrounds me. An important process of the art making is traversing through the landscape. This allows for an immersion into the site which invites new experiences and discoveries. In the studio, I draw from my memory, photos and intuition to bring them to life through carving lino and then printing onto paper.

Each print evokes the emotion that the site provoked in me at the time I was visiting. These places have all compelled me to be expressive in my mark making. It is the land and the human connection to place that is the essential influence for these works.
